

The image shows the entrance to Bijepur Park at dusk. The entrance is framed by two large, semi-circular pillars. The left pillar is painted a vibrant red and features the words "BIJEPUR" and "PARK" in bold, yellow, sans-serif capital letters. The right pillar is painted a deep maroon. Between the pillars is a decorative wrought-iron gate with a central double door. The gate is set on a paved walkway that leads into a park area with greenery and a few people in the distance. Two palm trees stand on either side of the pillars. The sky is a deep blue with some light clouds, and the overall scene is illuminated by soft, ambient light.
